

DYLAN HOLLOWAY

Indie Musician & Authenticity Ambassador

Award-winning musician Dylan Holloway, also known by his stage name 'Dylan and The Moon', is a transgender singer-songwriter, with a passion for encouraging authenticity and belonging.

From being an X-Factor finalist at 19 before transitioning, to becoming the first transgender winner of a BBC music show in 2023, Dylan has had incredible success. He's shared stages with Lewis Capaldi and The 1975, collaborated with superstar Jason Derulo, and inspired young people with powerful talks on self-love.

Dylan is an advocate for embracing individuality and uniqueness, empowering young people to love themselves and achieve success.
